
EVERY LITTLE BIT O' YOU

By Irwin Levine and L. Russell Brown

There's a little bit of you in ev'ry girl I run into
In ev'ry girl I ever knew and since that day
We went our own way it's true there's a
Whole lot of me still hung on ev'ry little bit of you.
There's a little bit of you in ev'ry tender night I've shared
They can see that you're still there
One look in my eyes and they realize it's true there's a
Whole lot of me still hung on ev'ry little bit of you.
Now one girl has your smile so we smile for a little while
One girl has your touch so we touch, yeah, we touched
'Til I found she really didn't have your touch
That's when I knew I missed you a little too much.
There's still a little bit of hope hidin' down
In this old heart of mine whispering there'll be another time
I looked around and what I found just won't do 'cause there's a
Whole lot of me still hung on ev'ry little bit of you.
There's a little bit of you in ev'ry girl I run into
In ev'ry girl I ever knew and since that day
We went our own way it's true there's a
Whole lot of me still hung on ev'ry little bit of you.
Just a little bit just a little bit just a little bit
Just a little bit just a little bit, yeah, just a little bit
Just a little bit, oh, just a little bit
All I ever really wanted and that I needed is just you
There's a whole lot of me still hung on ev'ry little bit of you
Oh, just a little bit baby all I ever wanted.
All I ever needed.
