

DAVID'S delights

Walking out onto a stage to begin a live concert before a happy audience of fans.

Having a friendly, quiet chat with one of his fans—could be you, someday!

All kinds of water sports: swimming, diving, surfing, and especially scuba diving, in the warm waters off the West Coast, and around the beautiful island of Hawaii.

Giraffes!

Spending an evening relaxing with friends, and having a lively discussion on some subject which he's really interested in.

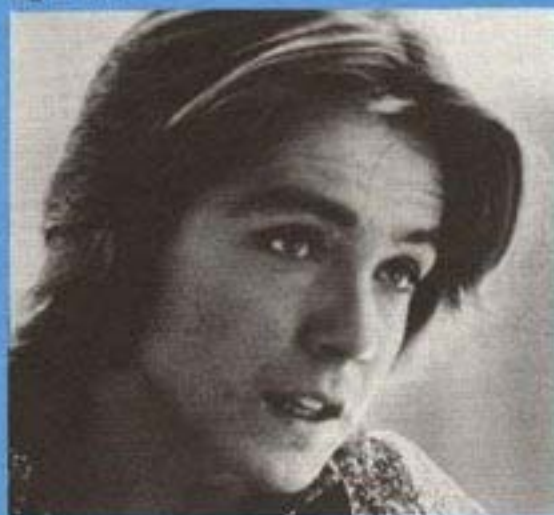

Long, country drives on bright warm days, and walking along a deserted beach on a cool, crisp evening.

Popcorn and old movies! Preferably both at once!

Reading all those super fan letters that come by the sackful. David would just love to answer every one personally, but that would be an impossible task for just one person. But every one of them gives him a big thrill to read.

Being able to help or advise a close friend with a problem. David always finds time to listen when someone asks for his help, and half an hour just talking to him is guaranteed to cheer anyone up!

...and lots, lots more things are David's Delights. That's why he always has that big, big smile!

and dislikes ...

Having to rush away after a concert, without being able to meet any of his fans.

Chatterbox girls who talk so much that no one else gets a chance to speak. And girls who wear lots and lots of heavy make-up. David always goes for natural-looking girls, with soft, shiny hair.

Getting really tired after a hard week's work, filming and recording. David always packs as much as he possibly can into each day, but once in a while he just has to calm down and get a good ten hours' sleep. And then he feels really refreshed—and gets back to his hectic round of work!

Concert halls where the acoustics are really bad and he knows that the audiences are hearing very distorted sound. David always gives all he's got at his concerts, and he hates to disappoint the fans who've come along to see him.

Breaking down in his car or getting a flat tyre. Every minute in David's busy life is precious, and he hates wasting time, and being late for appointments.

And last on the list of David's Dislikes, comes . . . lime green jelly! So don't serve that if David ever comes to tea!
