

... ON PLANES!

Great idea, thinks our sucker as his amiable adviser helps him by extracting the card from his hand and throwing it on the table. Note the foxy look in the slicker's eye. The pigeon is about to be plucked!

Too late! In a flash the slicker plays his King and takes the trick, leaving our sucker a sadder and wiser man. Moral: Never play cards on a plane. Or if you do, don't show your cards to ANYONE!
