

AND THEY CALL THESE GIRLS HAMBURGERS!

It's true! Everyone born in Hamburg is a Hamburger. My German guide took me to an old Courthouse where trials were held, and the wood-carvings there were out of this world. I just stood and stared at the detail.

These two Hamburgers looked good enough to eat. They were waiting for autographs as I went into my hotel.

