

My fantastic tour of Europe is nearly over. I've still got four pages of colour to show you those incredible concerts in Manchester and Wembley, so exciting for both of us. But this is where we must say goodbye. Thank you for coming and making it all such fun. I wish more than anything else that each one of you could have my life just for a day to taste the magic of it, the love and the warmth it brings me. The saddest thing is moving on and leaving so many friends behind. But I'll be back. Yes, I'll be back again, I promise!

*Thanks for coming -
Have,
Damon*
