This month (June) marks the return of KURT RUSSELL to the Disney Studio lot for filming on his new movie, "The Rating Game." KURT plays a page in a TV studio. He runs into a chimp that can pick the highest rated shows in each time slot, AND the winning TV pilots! When KURT passes on the info to the network bosses, they are impressed to say the least! But later they realize his source of information! Then the fun begins. The movie is scheduled for release in February of next year.

To all the MICHAEL PARKS fans who didn't plan on seeing MIKE after the cancellation of "Bronson," take heart! MIKE'S decided to go out on the road to perform his songs. His first concerts were in Birmingham, Alabama and Chattanooga, Tennessee in April, so it's a good indication that he'll be appearing in other cities around the country over the summer months, since as yet he has no other acting assignment.

A late flash—you will be seeing PEGGY LIPTON as part of the "Mod Squad" next season! PEGGY'S lawyers and AARON SPELLING, the producer of "Mod Squad" reached an agreement in late April, only weeks before the show was scheduled to begin shooting for next season. They agreed that she would be paid $5,000 per episode and $7,500 to $10,000 on the episodes where she played a bigger part!

Rick Ely

recently did a soft-drink commercial which will be seen in Japan and they traveled to that Far-Eastern country in May for concerts at EXPO '70 on the bill with ANDY WILLIAMS. DID-JAKNOW, also, that MRS. OSMOND is a fantastic cook and she often names recipes after her children's favorite dishes—like "Jay's Carrot Cake."

BE SURE TO NOTE DAVID'S NEW ADDRESS! You can write to David personally at 1740 Clear View Drive, Beverly Hills, California 90210. Be sure to put a Tiger Beat "Open Me First" Sticker on your envelope or write "I Read T.B.!"

One thing about DAVID CASSIDY that's really a groove—he's not hung up on material possessions. Since he's been in his new house, which he shares with his friend SAM and his dog, also named SAM, the only piece of furniture he's carried in so far is a mattress where he crashes nightly! When he was up at the Tiger Beat office for a photo session, he told me, "There are just too many things to do and see. I can't waste time right now looking for furniture." He says when he does decide to furnish the place, it will be a matter of running into groovy pieces of furniture by accident. He's not the type to go on a shopping spree!

A handsome face you'll be wanting to see more and more of is the face of RICK ELY. First of all, he's no relation to RON ELY, who starred as "Tarzan" a few seasons back. RICK is the star of "The Young Rebels," which will be on every Sunday night at 7 p.m. RICK'S just 24, and a groovier guy you couldn't ask for! We had lunch the other day to get acquainted and I can assure you, you're going to want to know ALL about this outasite star!

Here's what happens when you go to the COWSILLS' Santa Monica home for an interview—you wind up doing everything but an interview! When I first arrived, everyone was in their separate corner of the house, but one word from MINI-MOM and they were all in the front room pronto, even little Subar came running! While our photog Kenny Lieu shot some of his super pictures of the group, SUSAN and I played jacks! She beat me every time! MINI-MOM told me she had seen seven houses that day, but none of them had enough bedrooms, so she is still looking for a house to buy. They are only leasing the one in Santa Monica. After the photos were over, SUSAN talked me into trying out the new trampoline. I love all kinds of sports, but still it's been a while since I have been on one. Anyway, it was a ball, and I can't wait to go back!
