that she's recycling it... ELVIS PRESLEY snapped up a bargain of a mansion in Holmby Hills. He paid only about $300,000 for it!

When JOHN EVAN was entering the country for the most recent JETHRO TULL tour, the customs official who was checking his luggage found four rubber ducks in it. The official asked him what they were for, and John replied, "To play with in the bathtub, of course!" When a friend at Reprise Records in Los Angeles heard the story, he decided that it was about time John get a chance to play with a real duck for a change and surprised him with one. But since real ducks are a bit messier than rubber ones and present quite a problem when you try to take them on tours, John gave the duck away as soon as he could find someone who wanted it. We hear the duck's alive and well and living in Encino, California, and John's gone back to his rubber ones!

ERIC CLAPTON's one of the few rock stars to have a football team named after him. Some Dublin fans call their team "Clapton United," and they've even written a song called "Clapton Forever." Eric was quite surprised at the honor and said, "I am not a sportsman of any kind, and I never thought anyone would want a football team named after me."

But Eric's hoping to hear the song and says, if it's good enough, his new group DEREK AND THE DOMINOS might want to record it. The group, by the way, will make its first US television appearance on "The JOHNNY CASH Show" January 20th. The other "Dominos" are CARL RADLE on bass, JIM GORDON, drums, and BOBBY WHITLOCK, piano and organ, who are all former members of DELANEY, BONNIE AND FRIENDS.

Other ex-CREAM members JACK BRUCE and GINGER BAKER are keeping busy, too. A jazz album, "Things We Like," that Jack recorded nearly two years ago is finally being released. Ginger Baker's AIR FORCE is recording a third album, "The Phew."

MAURICE GIBB had a great time in Ireland visiting RICHARD HARRIS and attending the premiere of Richard's new film, "Bloomfield." Maurice helped score the film.

SUSAN DEY was grand marshal in the Cleveland, Ohio, Thanksgiving parade, and every weekend since had been loaded with interviews and personal appearances. But even though Susan would like a little more time to herself, she thinks one of the best things about show business is getting to go places and meet lots of people... DAVID CASSIDY's spending every minute he can spare scuba diving. Wouldn't you like to join him?
