

Behind the Closed

IT ISN'T OFTEN that David Cassidy gets any time to spend all by himself. When he does, he hurries to his fabulous new home in the Hollywood Hills and closes the door between himself and the rest of the world—but not to you! So join David and find out what really goes on with him behind the closed door! The phone? You bet! When he has the time, David loves to talk to his friends—especially since he doesn't get to see them face-to-face as often as he used to.

The world of music is not shut off when David goes behind the closed door. Besides listening to records, he likes to make music of his own—or to try. David has taken seriously to composing songs—and he hopes to make a record of nothing but his very own tunes one day! He uses the piano to help work out the musical part of his composing.
