

Bobby: "SNEAK PEEK AT MY NEW TV SHOW!"

HI BABE! So much has been going on that I thought I'd personally take the time to fill you in on just what's been happening in the world of Bobby Sherman. As you know, I made a guest appearance on ABC-TV's The Partridge Family this past March in an episode entitled A Knight In Shining Armor. But didja know that the role I portrayed on that show will turn into a brand new TV series for me?! Well, it's true, and I'm really excited about being able to once again meet with you each and every week—so come September I'll be seeing you on The Bobby Sherman Show every Saturday at 8 P.M. on ABC-TV. In the meantime, here's a look at just what went on when I got together with the PF gang—plus a sneak peek at the kind of kooky adventures you'll be seeing on my new TV show!!

I play the role of "Bobby Conway," a young man who writes music—but not lyrics! The PF gang dig my tunes and try to help me find a songwriting partner. In fact, they even have someone in mind and make arrangements for me to meet him!

If you're wondering why "Keith" (alias David Cassidy) and I are laughing—well, just think about it. How would you react when you finally found "Lionel" and saw him dressed in a suit of shining armor? That's when we first realized that "Lionel" was a little strange!!

Luckily, I got to spend some time with "Lionel" and learned that although he is a bit (?) eccentric (and that's putting it mildly!)—he's also a very warm, kind-hearted, groovy guy.
