

DAVID CASSIDY goes

Whenever he has time off from his busy The Partridge Family filming and recording schedule, David Cassidy (and the rest of the PF regulars) likes to go on the road and make personal appearances—meeting and greeting fans from coast to coast. So be sure to keep your eyes and ears open for news of when David and the PF gang will be coming your way!

This past summer, David and his real-life step-mom Shirley Jones visited eight cities, and one of their stops was Atlanta, Georgia. While there, they made a guest appearance on The Tubby And Lester Show—a top-rated children-teen show on WQXI-TV. Tubby and Lester are well known for inviting guest celebrities to participate in some of their hilarious skits. So come along and take a look at just what went on when David Cassidy and Shirley Jones got together with these two fun-loving characters!!

David first meets Tubby and Lester when he stops by their "home", the clubhouse. David has heard about Lester's great new invention—an electric tambourine—and he wants to know more about it!

As Lester describes the wild beat and super sound his invention makes, David exclaims that it would be a great addition to The Partridge Family band—and asks if he could try it out!

"It really turns you on!" is all that David can think to say—cos although the tambourine did produce a groovy sound, David got a super-shock from the electric current!

Suddenly Shirley enters. When she hears about the tambourine, she explains that The Partridge Family already has so many electric instruments that one more might cause a nationwide blackout!
