

Bobby SING f

WHAT DO beautiful Bobby Sherman and adorable David Cassidy have in common? They're both super singers with sensational-sounding new singles—that's what! Bobby's record on Metromedia is entitled Cried Like A Baby and David's disc, as recorded by The Partridge Family on the Bell label, is

CRIED LIKE A BABY

(As recorded by Bobby Sherman on Metromedia Records.)

*Always had the best of everything,
Anything money could buy.
I go first class and I'll live like a king till I die.
I surround myself with treasure and
devote each day to pleasure,
Until late at night this king begins to cry.*

(CHORUS)

*And I have cried like a baby
In the darkness of my room,
Nobody there to hold my trembling hand.
And I cried like a baby
In the darkness of my room
With nobody there to love or understand.*

*In the comfort of my castle,
I have lived my life in style.
Let the troubled world just up and pass me by.
I surround myself with treasure
And I fill each day with pleasure,
Until late at night this king begins to cry.*

(REPEAT CHORUS)

*In the hollow of an empire
I've become a warrior king,
Hunting golden deals and million-dollar schemes.
When our fate has been decided
And my soul's been sub-divided,
I will cry alone for half forgotten dreams.*

(REPEAT CHORUS TWICE AND END)

(Copyright © 1970 by Almo Music Corp. ASCAP. All Rights Reserved. Used by Permission. Words by Paul Williams and Music by Craig Doerge.)