• Dear Carol,

Congratulations on your determination. Keep listenin' to Loving Fashions and watch the big change you'll see in yourself! All other SPEC-ers who want to make the most of themselves—turn to Page 71 and follow through.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

Dear Miss Stavers,

I have but one small request to ask of you. Please print the following in SPEC and ask all of your readers to read it carefully—and then circulate it around.

Evy Spring

Syosset, N.Y.

• Dear Evy,
O.K.—

WHAT YOU CAN DO ABOUT THE ENVIRONMENTAL CRISIS: Walk to school. Ride a bike. Ride a train. Take a bus. Join a carpool. Don't buy it—use it again. Ban DDT. Stop ABM. Starve a rat. Turn off a light—and that faucet. Buy a small car. Try walking. Inhale the carbon monoxide. Rub your eyes. Get mad. Report a polluter. Write a Congressman. Write him again—and again. Ask for answers. Ask for action. Call your Councilman. Go to the Planning Board meeting. Pick up a candy-wrapper. Organize a paper, glass and aluminum collection. Don't wear fur. Stop erosion. Create a park. Clean up a park. Give a damn. Support life. Join a group. Start a group. Read a book. Learn the facts. Make a speech. Do your thing. Complain to the company. Name names. Picket the place. Plan ahead. Know your rights. Change some laws. Plant some trees. Plant a thought. Love your country—don't leave it, fix it up. Return your empties. Vote for sewers. Just vote. Talk to friends. Write the editor. Think first. Consider your grandchildren.

Robby, John & Doug Sky

Make a poster. Go to the meeting. Smell the flowers. Listen to birds. Dip your feet in the brook. Get the lead out. Don't believe simple answers. Ask how. Ask when. Be nice to your environment. Listen to the kids. Keep a record. Vote accordingly. Don't ask what. Think what might be. Ask why not. Love thy neighbor as thyself. Get right with the universe.
