because the stand-in's a she? ... As soon as "Mission: Impossible" is finished shooting for the season, stars PETER GRAVES and GREG MORRIS, with their wives, will take off for Israel for a holiday.

Lovely actress JENNIFER O'NEILL is among the growing ranks of Hollywood horse-lovers. She has a horse farm in White Plains, N.Y., and is currently grooming her thoroughbred horses for competition when Spring rolls around.

Who says letters to the networks and studios have no effect on TV shows? When "Cade's County" comes back again next season star GLENN FORD will have more "female companionship," possibly even a steady girlfriend. And all because letters from viewers asked for it. So keep those cards and letters com-

Don't call this man Oliver anymore! He is using his real name, Billy Swofford!

Here's Three Dog Night with a replica of the float they rode in a Rose Bowl ride!

Two groups are setting records. The Beach Boys, for their cross-country and world tour; The Carpenters, for their many cars!

The first major rock group to ride in the Rose Bowl Parade in Pasadena, California, on New Year's Day was THREE DOG NIGHT. The group rode on the Florists' Transworld Delivery Association float.

If you ever find yourself in the small town of Albion, California, look for ENGELBERT HUMPERDINCK Road. No, it isn't just a coincidence (coincidence?!). . . the street is, indeed, named after the singer. It all came about when a resident of Albion, Florence Brown, went to an Engelbert show at Lake Tahoe and was one of the lucky people who received a handshake and a kiss from him. To commemorate the occasion, she asked permission to name her street in his honor and erected a road sign. Of course, the street isn't exactly of freeway proportions—it's only three blocks long.

SHIRLEY MacLAINE obviously doesn't believe in letter-writing. Her young daughter Stephanie, known as Sachie, is in school in Switzerland, and when Shirley can't reach her on the phone to say "Hello," she sometimes hops on a plane to say it in person!

Would you believe that ANTHONY QUINN is a grandfather? Well, the handsome actor is. His grandson, named Wade, is two years old.

THE CARPENTERS haven't let their recent fame and success go to their heads, but one thing RICHARD couldn't resist buying was a car . . . or two or three. A real racing-car enthusiast, Richard now owns four cars. One of them is a Maserati, fiery in color and in temperament. As for KAREN, she's still pretty much of a homebody. In fact, besides her music, one of her favorite things to do is cook.

Would you believe THE BEACH BOYS are celebrating their tenth anniversary this winter? And they're celebrating with a record-breaking concert tour . . . covering practically every major city (plus some minor ones) and Europe.

Remember singer OLIVER? Well, forget him . . . he is no more. Today he's recording under his real name, BILLY SWOFFORD, and is living in Los Angeles. He made the change in name, he says, because he plans to stay in show business for a long time, and he just can't see himself with a one name when he's forty years old. Besides, having one name is sort-of a gimmick . . . he prefers having some identification on his own.

See ya next time . . .
