Q. My girlfriend said that the Osmonds are going to appear at the John Hancock Public School in Philadelphia at the graduation party. Can you tell me if this is true?

A. We're sure there was lots of talk about what a great celebration it would be if the Osmonds could perform, but the group has made no commitments for appearing at such an affair.

Q. Please tell me where I can write to Harry Nilsson. I just bought his album, "Nilsson Schmilsson," and think it's great!

A. The best place to write to Harry Nilsson is in care of Bruce Grakal, 9777 Wilshire Bl., Suite 1018, Beverly Hills, Ca. 90212.

NILSSON

DAVID

Q. Does David Cassidy live with his stepmom, Shirley Jones, or does he live alone?

A. The answer is neither! David has a beautiful large house in the San Fernando Valley, and shares it with his roommate, Sam Hyman.

Q. I am writing to you all the way from Europe and want to know if the Jackson Five will be coming my way? I'd sure love to see them in concert.

A. Good news! There's a strong likelihood that the Jackson Five will be coming your way in the very near future! Although no definite plans have been made, the group does hope to tour Europe by the end of the year!

MICHAEL J.

MICHAEL G.

Q. I was wondering what kind of car Michael Gray drives?

A. Michael drives a striking white Chevy Malibu with a rich black interior!

Q. My girlfriend got me the "Tommy" album by the Who for my birthday. Please tell me what it's all about because I see that the songs all follow a story.

A. They certainly do follow a story, and an interesting one at that! Tommy is a young boy who grows up being deaf, dumb and blind, but despite his handicap, he becomes a pinball champion and has fans all over the world! Fortunately for Tommy, he overcomes his handicap, which was psychosomatic to begin with, and the little songbook of lyrics that's enclosed with the album helps you follow his route to recovery!
