

DAVID BEGS:
"PLEASE LOVE ME!"

more and more about his fans. How does a girl feel who sends him letter after letter, week after week and doesn't receive an answer? Does she lose faith in him? Or what does the girl think who spends a good bit of her own precious time to create a handmade gift for him and then never gets word that he's received it? Or that he likes it? Does she stop loving him?

David would be very hurt if he felt that was happening. He'd hate to see his fans lose faith and love for him because he wasn't able to answer every piece of mail he receives personally. He also wouldn't want to see his fans lose hope of getting some kind of answer in the future, or maybe having him visit their town to do a concert or personal appearance.

David expects to be singing, acting and recording for a long time to come. And he knows that you, his fans, are going to play an important part in his future. What kind of part? David's doing his share . . . the rest is up to you. ● ways be thankful to him.

"Actually," Wayne says, "Alan, Merrill, Jay and myself were discovered by Andy's father while we were singing at Disneyland. When he told Andy about us, we were invited to perform for him and were then chosen to be on his show. For five years, we appeared and performed with this great entertainer until he decided to take a breather from TV."

Immediately the group was invited to join "The Jerry Lewis Show." That's when TV, recording, and concert offers began pouring in. Then, when Andy returned to TV in 1969 and asked them to join him as regulars once again, they wasted no time in saying yes. But both Andy and The Osmonds knew it was only a matter of time before they'd be striking out on their own. And they did just that in 1970. You can be sure, though, that they left with Andy's blessings and a golden friendship still intact!

RUMOR: The Osmonds are kept so busy by their career, they seldom have a chance to even look at their fan mail or to open any gifts!

No matter how busy The Osmonds might be, you can be sure they'll never ignore those warm letters and personal
