

David's Heart Breaks in Hawaii

The following week, David filmed The Partridge Family every day at Columbia Ranch. He talked eagerly of going on a trip to Hawaii. He was really looking forward to it! It would be a secret vacation! None of David's fans nor his managers knew that he would be flying over to bask in the sun and put aside his exciting, but demanding career for one whole week! He would just be David Cassidy, Beachbum! So if you're ready for this part of our great adventure with David, slip into your grass skirt and orchid flower lei and let's go, Babe!

ALOHA FOR HAWAII!

David and I met at the airport. David had his guitar all packed up and shipped in the baggage compartment. There was a big red and white "fragile" sticker on it, but not his name! David did not want to be "discovered" this time! On the flight, a couple of the stewardesses recognized him, though, and shyly they asked for his autograph. Although he was on vacation, David was glad to sign for them.

DAVID IS DISCOVERED!

When we got off the plane, a special airline hostess was there to meet us. One of the stewardesses had probably radioed ahead to tell Honolulu that a VIP (Very Important Person) would be arriving. But David was a little embarrassed when the hostess met him as he got off the plane. "How did you know I was on this flight?" he asked. He made her promise right then and there that she wouldn't tell anyone that she had seen him here on his secret vacation!

DAVID'S BEAUTIFUL HAWAII!

As David and I drove out to the secluded beach house that we would stay in, David sighed as he gazed at the lush, tropical beauty all around him. He was very happy to be here in Hawaii for a much-needed rest! Little did he know that here he would find one of the loveliest luv's of his life! You already know by the pictures with the story that this was not a girl. It was to be a darling little Airedale puppy!

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN!

land of Oahu. All the area around it is just like Hawaii used to be in the old days, with beautiful rain forests, green palm groves, and bright, sun-drenched beaches with silver sand and emerald green water!

At the cabin, David and I met two more friends of ours from Hollywood who are also in the music business, Cyrus Faryar and his wife, Renais.

A BEACH IN THE BACK YARD!

Tom's cabin's back yard is the beach! David would go out to the beautiful strand of pearl-white sand every afternoon, and sometimes in the evening when the stars were out, to play his guitar and sing into the Trade Winds as they tousled his hair. He could sit down near the surf and sing as loud as he wanted. No one could hear him above the crashing roar of the waves. Singing like that is really good exercise for a singer's voice strength!

After he'd come back into the cabin, David would say again and again, "It's so peaceful here—no telephone, no traffic, no smog! It's another world!"

HAWAIIAN NEIGHBORS!

The houses on either side of the cabin are just as beautifully located as Tom's. Local Hawaiians live in them, like the Kamane family next door. Now the Kamane family is especially beautiful in that they love animals more than just about anybody you could imagine—anybody that is, except super dog lover David Cassidy! The Kamanes have at least three dogs, and many others come around at supper time. None ever go away hungry!

DAVID MEETS "SPIFFY!"

One of the Kamane's puppies really took a liking to David. His name was Spiffy! Spiffy and David hit it off instantly! It was hard for Cyrus, Renais and me to tell whether Spiffy loved David more or David loved Spiffy the most! From that first day
