

What people are wearing OVERSEAS

Above: Paul McCartney and his band "Wings" took to the stage for a so-called "Charity Brawl" in London. He looked ready for work in white jeans and a sweater.

Right: When bearded Ringo Starr and his wife Maureen left London's Heathrow Airport for a visit to New York, Maureen wore a multi-colored cropped jacket and slim pants. Ringo went for a full-length fur coat over layers of cardigans.

Left: Shine on, David Cassidy! He dressed in a black jumpsuit, star-spangled all over, with a wide glittery belt for a performance at the Empire Pool at Wembley.
