

- 7 You see David with another girl and you
- immediately decide he's found a new love.
 - choose not to jump to conclusion because you trust him.
 - walk up to them and demand to know who she is!
 - begin to cry knowing you've lost him.
- 8 You're out on a date and when the check comes, David tells you he's forgotten his money. You
- gracefully slip him the needed cash.
 - rush out of the restaurant with your hands covering your face, embarrassed to tears!
 - try to shame him by asking the waiter when you should start washing dishes.
 - tell him it's his problem.
- 9 You and David are sitting before a romantic fire and he turns to you and calls you by the wrong name. You
- ask, "who's that?"
 - laugh and call him "Seymour."
 - ignore it and let his moment of embarrassment pass.
 - slap him across the face and rush home.
- 10 On the anniversary of your first date, you ask David
- to take you back to where you spent that first glorious date.
 - what his plans, for you, are in his life.
 - to marry you, thinking he'll never do it himself!

- to arrange a huge celebration.
- 11 Whenever David calls you on the phone
- you do all the talking to let him know you're important too.
 - you are eager to hear how he is and what's new with him.
 - act impatient about tying up the phone.
 - ask him point-blank what he wants.
- 12 At a store one day, you overhear some girls criticizing David, so you
- simply ignore them. They don't really know him like

- you do.
 - listen to them closely so you can tell David what his fans think.
 - go up to the girls and tell them they're stupid!
 - discover that his popularity is going, so you obviously don't want him, either!
- 13 When David offers to go with you on a shopping spree you
- accept eagerly because it'll be fun to have his opinion on the clothes you buy.
 - refuse because he doesn't have any say on what you wear.
 - jump for joy because he might buy you something.
 - say no because he might see you try on an outfit that isn't flattering.
- 14 It's been a long day and David is a little on edge, so you
- tell him if he can't be happy

- when he's with you, then he can go home.
 - make him sit and tell you everything that happened to him that put him in such a mood.
 - try and be as pleasant as possible because you realize it's only a mood that will pass.
 - tease him about being a grouch.
- 15 At a party given in his honor, David and you make your entrance and you
- whisper to him how proud you are.
 - warn him not to speak to any pretty girls there.
 - remind him that he should mingle with only important people.
 - grab his hand, determined to be by his side all evening.
- 16 You've just seen a sad movie together and you
- want David to just leave you alone.
 - ask David if your mascara is smeared.
 - sit quietly, holding his hand and knowing he was as deeply touched as you.
 - try to hide the fact that you were so moved by a silly movie.
- 17 On your birthday, David recites a passage of one of his favorite poems and
- you burst out laughing.
 - you listen quietly to see if you find the same meaning as he has.
 - you recite one of your favorite passages too.
 - you show David where he has quoted a passage wrong.
