

LATELY IT SEEMS that David Cassidy has been making himself very scarce. Whenever he travels his whereabouts are cloaked in mystery. Airline trips are booked for early-bird flights; landings aren't publicized. The memories of the good old David-in-concert days, with smiling Kim Carnes and funky Dave Ellingson as back-up sounds, are just that—memories! It seems that once in a blue moon you can catch David's guest-star shot on a TV Special, such as the one he did for Bob Hope a while back. What gives? Those in the Hollywood-know, have suggested that David may be traveling a similar path to Bobby Sherman. Bobby was very much in the public eye one minute, and a very private person the next minute. His reason? Mrs. Bobby Sherman and their baby boy, Christopher Noel, of course! Bobby traded in his teen-idol crown to reign in his own castle. And lately rumors concerning David are taking shape. David Cassidy must be secretly married is being whispered by several people who just might know.

When you look at the facts, you have to admit that they all point towards that statement. Check this.

POINT 1 David, who had done many rollicking-frolicking rock concerts ever since the show was aired, all of a sudden has stopped giving concerts in the USA last year. He even canceled a few shows that he had promised to give and refunds had to be sent to his disappointed fans. Everyone enjoyed his concerts so much that David's press people said after a few months David would start giving them again. Well, about a year has passed now, and David hasn't given any more concerts in this country. He went to Great Britain this past March and gave concerts in a few countries of Western Europe. But that was all. Naturally, speculations ranged far and wide. David, of course, had been (continued on page 64)

David is used to secret maneuvers. As Keith Partridge he spirited a princess out of her hotel.

David soaked up sun on a yacht in England.
