

& DAVID STUCK UP?

And what about David Bruce Cassidy? He, too, has been accused of being stuck up. Many girls who really love David write to SPEC and say, "...I waited by the stage door for an hour—and David rushed right by me, jumped in his limo, and ran off. Now I hate him—cos he's so stuck up!"

But is he really? Have the writers of these letters ever stopped to wonder what would happen to David if he paused for a moment to sign a picture or say hello? Doesn't it seem logical that the excited fans pressing around would soon lose control and would start to claw and grab at David? And that's just the beginning. In a situation like that, David could get "loved to death!" How would you like to be treated like that? Chances are, you wouldn't—and, put in the same position, you would do just like David or Donny. You would run for your life!—taking a chance on being stuck up, but happily remaining very much alive!!

So if anyone—or perhaps even you—sometimes feels that Donny and David are stuck up, just stop for awhile and think about it. Let your heart open wide to these two wonderful and talented young men who have given you everything they've got. Let your heated emotions calm down for a moment or two while you recall the records, the TV shows, and the live concert appearances they have done for you, plus the time they spend having their pictures taken for you, writing stories for you, reading your letters (and answering as many as they can) and—most of all—loving you and living their whole lives just for you!
