things you didn't know about the new david!

Keith Partridge may have stayed the same these past few years, but David certainly hasn't. He's been growing and changing his ideas all along. Now you can find out some of the things that make him a different person than the one you met three years ago!

1. Health is something that's becoming very important to David. A couple of years ago he kept crazy, late hours even when he had to film the next day. When he'd get a sniffle it would blossom into a full-fledged miserable cold before David would do anything about it. Now—he gets rest when his body tells him he needs it and takes vitamins by the handful. He appreciates his good health now more than ever!

2. Money used to be very important to David. More than anything David wished to be rich. He craved the security money can offer. Now he finds security in the knowledge that he, himself, is his own best security. He has confidence in his own talent and no longer seeks to merely raise the figures in his bank account.

3. When David first began work as a Partridge Family regular, he had to make a big adjustment in his life—getting up before 10, 11 or 12 a.m.! David was definitely a night person. But slowly over the past couple of years, he's begun to get up early more easily. In fact, even on his days off he's up sometimes at the crack of dawn, grooving on all the early morning sounds of nature waking up.

4. David has always been super appreciative of the love his fans give him so generously. The new David sees fans a little differently. He hopes his fans will stick by him in his new projects which will eventually leave out Keith Partridge. He hopes, too, that they will understand his need to search out new roads for his talents; and keep their close relationship going.

5. Most teenage boys go through a period when drinking beer is number one on their list of fun things to do—and David was no exception. In high school he sometimes drank along with the boys and even as he approached 21, the legal drinking age in California, alcohol was still the "forbidden fruit" that was very much fun. Then something funny happened—as soon as David reached the legal age, somehow the magic wore off. Now, he'll have an occasional glass of wine with a fancy dinner out, but mostly he'll leave the drinking to someone else these days!
