

AND TODAY

Shirley Jones was already famous. You probably had seen her in the movies "Oklahoma" and "Carousel." And Dave Madden had been on "Laugh-In" for a year.

Now look at the photos on this page. This is what the Partridge people look like today. They're all cooler, groovier and lovelier looking than ever! What have they all been up to lately?

Right now, they're back at work filming the show, but they did have a vacation. David was off traveling; no one knows exactly where. He needed a nice, long quiet rest and let's hope he got it. Shirley and her husband, Jack Cassidy (David's dad), roamed around Europe. Dave Madden did his very funny magic act in Las Vegas. Susan, like David, took a relaxing vacation. Brian spent a lot of time at Suzanne's house, splashing around in her swimming pool. And Danny Bonaduce has been making records. He has an album out and it's something else. Did you catch Danny on the TV special, "Rockin' the Palace"? The Osmonds also appeared. Danny was just great singing "Feeling Groovy."

So that's what the Partridge Family of today has been up to. They've been doing what they've always been doing: entertaining, going places, doing things and just making all of us happy by simply being. Let's hope they keep it up for a long time to come.
