

WHAT

... is the real David Cassidy like? The twenty one year old who has shot from the secure but humble background of a showbusiness family to the superstar level of a new Elvis? In the last year alone David has seen his record sales set new levels. His concerts have all been record breakers and sell outs of course.

Commercial companies in America compete with each other to put his name on everything from chocolates to tights and T shirts. Film companies are anxious that he should make his first film, each hopes that it will be for them!

Wherever David Cassidy goes he is mobbed. He has moved home three times just so that he can eat and sleep in peace. David loves his fans but knows that if he doesn't sleep then there'll be nothing for them to love... and no one to sing for them!

So what is this five foot eight super looker with the Jane Fonda hair style really like? When he was in London Disco 45 spent almost a day with David. We talked, David talked. We even walked round London, took him to see the Guards and Buckingham Palace. Everywhere we went David went and so did many fans.

But by the day's end we knew the real David Cassidy—his innermost thoughts and hopes—in this Special we take you with us on that trip round London and into David's own world—welcome.

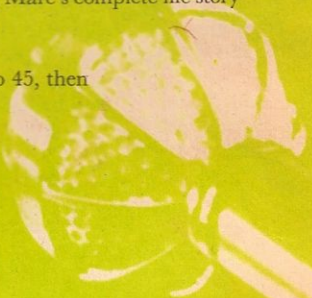

Welcome too to the world of Disco 45 Songbook. If you're a regular reader then you will have heard about this Special through our last edition. But if you just picked up this David Cassidy special on your bookstall then here comes a short but melodic commercial!
