

At Screen Gems, they're awaiting arrival of a mighty tired David Cassidy for new-season production of "Partridge Family," which begins next week. David is hitting the concert tour circuit in earnest. This weekend, he will be playing dates in Dayton and Canton, Ohio, and Detroit. He jets back home for an early Monday morning studio call.

Incidentally, if you've heard those rumors that David got himself arrested, don't believe them! A New York radio station started the fibby reporting that David was in jail.