

GIRLS — ONE GUESS WHO OUR SUNDAY MALE IS!

Sunday Male

There'll be a time when this whole thing will be over. I won't do concerts anymore, I won't wake up in the morning feeling drained, and I won't be working a punch card schedule. I've had to sing when I was hoarse. I've had them with a gun at my head, almost, saying "Record, 'cause we've gotta get the album out by Christmas!" I'll feel really good when it's over. I have an image of myself in five years. I'm living on an island. The sky is blue, the sun is shining. And I'm smiling. I'm healthy, I'm a family man. I see my skin very brown and leathery, with a bit of growth on my face. My hair is really long, with a lot of grey. I have some grey hair already.

—David Cassidy

David Cassidy

GIRLS! This is it.

The controversial and much talked about nude centre fold of popster David Cassidy.

Cassidy posed nude for Rolling Stone magazine.

But the issue in which it appeared was never published in New Zealand.

Rolling Stone described Cassidy as a "man in a boy's body" and described his act as a "healthy young animal of no particular gender."

David Cassidy gets our vote as Male of the Week.

We hope you like him!