

David success—again

DAVID CASSIDY, enjoying success second-time around, has been confessing about his previous exploits.

"I was being packaged as a goody-goody, cleaner than clean. In reality, I was a real womaniser. I had more women than I care to remember.

"I'd invite friends back to my hotel and they'd hide in the closet while I made love on the bed."

It was a face to face meeting with Elvis that made him quit first time around. By then the King was fat, lonely, depressed and 40.

"I thought that would be me in 15 years."

David recently married South African racehorse breeder Meryl Tanz.
