

IDOL PLATTER

FADED teeny idol David Cassidy is being given a leg-up by one of today's kiddypop heroes, George Michael.

The pair met for dinner before Wham! departed for their current Far East tour. And main topic of discussion was the possibility of George writing songs for David.

Meanwhile, Cassidy is in a London studio working on a new album with Cliff Richard producer Alan Tarney. His new single, entitled The Last Kiss, is to be released next month.
