

Cassidy hit with paternity suit

SINGER David Cassidy, who was in vogue with pre-teeners in the early 1970s, has been hit with a paternity suit.

Sherry Williams, 28, who works at a Los Angeles tanning palace, says her daughter, Katherine Evelyn, two and a half, is the former pop singer's daughter. She wants $US5000 ($A6078.50) a month support from Cassidy, who is 38.
