Hello there!

I hope the panic's died down by now! All of you up in the air with worry that David might not be making another record for a matter of years!

Anyway, you can breathe again now. 'Cos, if you read his letter to you this month, you'll find that it's going to be much nearer three months than three years! Which means that the next Cassidy single is now almost in sight . . . There's a nice thought to help you through to the end of June!

Now, I'm usually the one who goes around squashing all the rumours that attach themselves to David's name like limpets. But I can't resist passing on one piece of news to you which I'm hoping is going to turn into a nice solid piece of reality before David's next album.

What is it?

Well, it looks as though John Lennon might well be getting together with David and doing some work with him for his next album. And, considering that David wanted to include some Lennon/McCartney numbers in any case, that should be really something!

Well, it finally looks as though the U.S. scriptwriters' strike might dwindle to an end in time for filming to start some time next month. About time too, I say! This long delay has played havoc with all the schedules for the rest of the year. Take that very tentative plan of David's for a summer visit to Britain, for instance . . . That's had to go before it had even come properly!

They couldn't even get the music recorded in advance, because the union situation was so touchy. The film companies didn't dare move in any direction at all! Anything that involved any union technicians had to be counted out right from the start. So the Partridge Family will have an awful lot of ground to cover in their attempt to make up for lost time during the rest of the season.

When you think of their normal pressure of work, the mind boggles at anything more hectic! But apparently that's the way it's going to be, which explains why I'm suffering from an acute attack of bogglemania at the moment!

Still, if anyone can cope with that sort of impossible situation, it's the cast and crew of the Partridge Family! They are all such great professionals and there's such a marvellous degree of co-operation at Columbia Ranch, that I'm pretty sure they'll bring it off.

Anyway, our very own photographer is ready and waiting to zoom onto that set the minute the cameras start rolling again. So you'll be able to follow their progress through our fantastic, up-to-the-minute shots of the action . . . Including lots of luvly close-ups of David of course!!!
