YOUR LETTERS

BEIRUT CALLING

Dear Pat,

Hi! My name is Hania Saba, I'm 14 years old and I live in Beirut, Lebanon. Yes, in the Middle East. I just want to say that I love David and there are millions of fans here like me.

I really want to know if David has ever heard of Lebanon. So many people would love to see him here but I don't think he knows about us.

I do hope you will print this letter because I want everyone to know that we do not live in tents and ride on camels! Lebanon is just as modern as any other country, so tell David about us, please!

HANIA SABA, BEIRUT.

Well, we've done just that, Hania. We were very pleased to hear from you. We always welcome letters from our overseas readers, so if any of you have anything you'd like to tell other David Cassidy fans about, please send us a letter. ED

THANKS, DAVID

Dear Pat,

Maybe what I have to say will help other David fans the same way it has helped me.

About six months ago I used to smoke — not a lot, but enough to make me eventually become "addicted". One day I was reading through some pop facts about David (swoon) and I came to the words, "David doesn't like girls to smoke". That did it. I vowed I'd never smoke again and up to now I haven't. If I get the urge to have a cigarette I say to myself "No, David wouldn't like it" . . . that's all the will power I need and that's for sure.

So not only is being in love with David wonderful, it also gives you the will power to do something that you maybe found impossible before. David — you're a gem for helping me to give up a very bad habit! Here's hoping more people will give this "dead cert" method a good try.

JILL, NEWCASTLE.

Let's hope that your letter will inspire other people with falling will power who are trying to give up smoking! If David has helped anyone else, please let us know about it. ED

MISSING PERSONS

Dear Pat,

Please can you help me to find two friends of mine? My sister Carole, cousin Tina and I met them while we and the other two girls were on our way to the David Cassidy concert on March 16th. We all met at Brixton Underground Station, then met them after the concert, but I lost their address.

Their names were Carole and (I think) Lorraine. They said that they both read the D.C. Mag., so I thought that if you could print something in the mag, they might see it and write to me. Thank you very much.

CATHRINE EDWARDS, 76 Rother Cresc., Gosspole Green, Crawley, Sussex.

We're keeping our fingers crossed for you, Cathrine! ED

IN PRAISE

Dear Pat,

I have just made up a poem which tells you the way I, and perhaps a lot of others, feel about David. I know that you and David like to hear from budding poets, so let's hope this is of good enough!

WHY

Why must I wait for you to be mine,
 Why do I ache through this passing time,
 Why do I cry and pray to God above,
 Must it be I've fallen in love?

Why do I cherish the songs that you sing,
 Why would I give you everything,
 Why do I think you're honest and true,
 Must it be I've fallen for you?

Why does my poor heart hurt so much,
 Why is it you I want to touch
 Why do I hope that one day we'll kiss,
 Must it be you that's made me like this?

All these questions that come into my mind
 Tell me it's David who I want to find
 For he's the one that I'll love forever
 And maybe God will bring us together.

KAREN GEE (aged 15), MIDDLESBROUGH.

We thought it was good enough to print, Karen! I'm sure David will like it, too. ED
