Hi there!

Well, I hope you've all recovered from David's flying visit... we certainly haven't!! As Susie told you last month in the David Cassidy Fan Club page, David had promised to come over for the 50th edition of "Top Of The Pops"—and then we were officially told it was off. So, for a couple of weeks we really held our breath because we thought Susie got it wrong! But she was RIGHT after all!

Wasn't it absolutely super to see David on "Top Of The Pops"?

It seems ages since he was up there at the top of the Charts where we would all like him to stay permanently. And who else deserves to be at the top of the Charts more than our own number one guy.

He has come up with a really great double "A" sided single, "Daydreamer" is a beautiful number written by Terry Dempsey and Bell Records believe that you'll just prefer it to "The Puppy Song" which was penned by famous songwriter Harry Nilsson.

Anyone who knows David can tell you that all the secrecy and subterfuge that surrounded his visit was certainly not his idea. The British Airport Authority, fearing damage to the Heathrow terminal, laid it down hard and strong: if any fans were present on the observation deck or at the exits, David would just have to go back aboard the plane and go on to Frankfurt, and then back to the U.S.

So everyone from the Beeb to Pan American just HAD to keep their lips sealed before he arrived. It's a good thing they did, too, 'cos otherwise David wouldn't have been able to appear on "Top Of The Pops", and that's something that none of us would have wanted. We'll be giving you a full report on his visit next month.

As you know David will be filming his last Partridge Family show early next year and, as soon as the last episode is complete, he'll start rehearsing and getting ready for the best show you have ever seen. He is very conscious of the fact that there are still many countries where he has not yet appeared—live—so he is going to try to do his best to give everyone the chance to see him. That really IS an impossible ambition, of course, but, nevertheless, David is going to try, so we can't ask for more than that.

And talking of having a chance to see David, there's going to be a very special event taking place in the City of London on November the 18th: David and a whole host of other stars have decided to try and raise money for The Muscular Dystrophy Group of Great Britain—a charity that needs all the help it can get. So they've arranged for a Treasure Hunt to take place in the City of London on November the 18th, where you can win a fabulous first prize and be flown FREE to Hollywood to meet David in person on the set of the "Partridge Family". There are also some super runner-up prizes to be won and everyone who enters for the Treasure Hunt will each receive a souvenir for having taken part.

For full details of the Treasure Hunt, write or telephone, giving your name and address and the number of Sponsor Entry Forms required to: Treasure Hunt, 72 Westfields Avenue, London, SW13 8AU. (Telephone 01-878 4366 24-hour answering service).

Just one last point, as you all know, the price of almost everything is going up at present, for example, the cost of paper for the David Cassidy Magazine has almost doubled since we published the first issue back in '72. Which means, I'm afraid, that we're going to have to increase the price to 20p from the November issue.

Sorry about this, but as I have already said, we just have no alternative. But what we will try to do in all future issues, is to give you better photographs and features than ever before. Oh, and by the way, if you want to get all the words of both of David's new songs they were published in the October issue of MICKIE SONGBOOK—don't miss it, it's the best one around.

◀ I bet you never thought you'd see David dressed up like this. The white tie and tails make him look fantastic, don't they!
