

FANTASTIC PICTURES

I am an absolutely devoted David Cassidy fan—like thousands and thousands of other girls in Britain!

I am so much in love with David that I hunt out every single picture I can track down that is printed in any of the magazines—especially 'Superstar', because I can be certain to find several really fantastic pictures of David in there every month.

One thing I haven't come across yet, though—and that is any photos of David when he was younger. Could you possibly print some of these if you can get hold of any (I don't know how easy that will be for you—but PLEASE do try!).

I'd love to see if David's always been as gorgeous looking as he is now. Not that it would make a bit of difference in the way I feel about him if he was the ugliest kid out! I just want to know everything I can possibly know about him, and seeing some pictures of the younger David will help a lot.

Please try.

Love,
Brenda McIntosh,

Well, Brenda, it looks as though we've been thinking along the same lines. We realised that all devoted David Cassidy fans, like you, would want to know every single fact about him since the day he was born. So, be sure to get all issues of Superstar and the David Cassidy magazine so that you don't miss a single episode. Part One will be in the July edition of Superstar!

As we go through, we shall try to print some 'pix' of David to fit in with each episode. By the way, we've not set eyes on a single pic. of David yet where he doesn't look gorgeous! ED.

SIGNET RING

Every time I see a picture of David which includes his right hand it's there—that signet ring on his little finger! On the back cover of the April edition of 'Superstar', for instance.

Is it the same ring all the time? Because, if it is, it makes me think it must have great sentimental value for David, as he wears it even when he's filming (December issue on pages 24 and 25, for example). Is it set with his birthstone?

If you know, or can find out for me, I'd be everlastingly grateful to you.

Mandy Shaw,
Bournemouth,
Hants.

Dear Mandy,

You're wrong about the birthstone (David's ring has a blue stone, while his birthstone is a diamond), but you're very right about the sentimental value!

It was given to David when he was 15 by his father, Jack Cassidy, whose mother had given it to him when he was 15. So David will wear that ring all the time until he has a son. Then, when his son reaches his 15th birthday, David will continue the tradition by giving it to him.

That's why the ring is so precious to David and he doesn't like to let it out of his sight any more than he can help. ED.

TWO VERSES

I want to let you know I care
So much I find it hard to bear.
I see your photos on my wall,
But know that you're not there at all.

I think about you night and day,
And all the time I hope and pray
The day will come when I shall see
Your own eyes, David, look at me.

Heather Briggs,
Leeds.

COME BACK, DAVID

When—oh when—is David coming back to England again?

You see, last time he was over here I was in hospital having myself patched up after a car accident.

All the time I was in there, I wasn't worried about the pain—it was the thought that I wouldn't even have a chance of glimpsing David that made me so upset! Anyway, now I have completely recovered from my injuries—the only thing still wrong with me is THAT I STILL HAVEN'T SEEN DAVID!

I feel my whole life would be worth living again if I could see—and perhaps even touch him!—but it sounds as though this next visit he promised us might be 'put off' for ever.

A sad David Cassidy fan.
Heather Jedder,
Preston,
Lancashire.

First of all, I'm very glad to hear that you are well now, Heather. And I think I've got some news that might help to lift your depression a bit!

Now, I can't promise anything—because even David can't be sure that he'll be able to make it... But he is looking into the possibility of snatching a very brief return trip over here some time in September. And the plans include a live concert—probably in London!!

The only thing that could dash all our hopes would be if David's filming schedule was too tight to allow him the time.

So, keep your fingers, toes and eyes crossed. We want this to happen!!! ED.

HAZEL EYES!

In the December issue of The Partridge Family Mag. one of the 'Partridge Fax' said that David's eyes were hazel.

Well, I think you'll agree with me that 'hazel' eyes are a kind of almost-brown colour... and, sure enough, that's how David's eyes look in the cover pix of 'Superstar' for January, February and May.

But my friend, Alison, says that David's eyes are GREEN (that's why green's suddenly become her favourite colour, by the way!). And to prove it to me she has actually shown me a big, colour picture of David that was in another magazine. You could have knocked me down, because his eyes really do look bright green in it!

Please put an end to all our doubts—we're suspecting trick photography and all sorts of peculiar things!

Diane Fenner,
Enfield,
Middlesex.

Dear Diane,

You and Alison can certainly put all these 'peculiar things' out of your minds. There's a very simple explanation for this apparent change in the colour of David's eyes. You see, the sort of light that David's in when the shot's taken can have a lot to do with it. Under studio or indoor lighting, his eyes look a brownish hazel, while out of doors they sometimes take on a greenish tinge.

David also says that they change from one shade to the other depending on what colour clothes he's wearing that day! (It must be really confusing for him!) But, if you ask him what colour are his eyes, his answer is always 'hazel'—no matter what colour they might be at that precise moment! And if David puts down 'hazel' on his passport form, that's good enough authority for us! ED.

← Bet you've never seen a pic. of David like this!
