

After awhile, patience becomes one of the most important qualities for any actor. David's job doesn't even begin until the people in wardrobe, make-up, sound and light have finished with him.

That's a light meter David has in front of his face.

