Hello there!

I'm still frantically trying to find out for certain exactly how long David plans to stay in Britain. The reply is usually: "Well, as long as I can, of course!" Which is great, but it doesn't exactly give me anything definite to go on!

Mind you, the last time I talked with Sam Hyman, things sounded quite hopeful. . . . If he can make it over with David and doesn't have to rush back specially for anything, he'd like to get to see some of our countryside at close range. So, if you see a guy hiking through the open spaces with a pack on his back, and you feel you've seen him somewhere before . . . well, take another look. It might be worth it!

Right now, top priority is finding somewhere for him to stay while he's over. . . . At one time there was talk of a castle in Scotland. But that'll almost certainly have to be struck off the list now—at least while David's appearing down south. 'Cos it would mean travelling down by helicopter for every engagement. And, with our present shortage of fuel, David felt he couldn't do that. A shame. . . . Because that would have been somewhere he'd sure have gone overboard for.

Meanwhile, that first start-off gig isn't really all that far away now. . . . Just think: on 26th Feb. more than 22,000 New Zealand fans will be able to see David in the kick-off concert of his very first World Tour! That's at Eden Park, Auckland. But I'm afraid it's just too late to emigrate in time for that one, girls!!

David follows up the New Zealand concerts with at least five in Australia where he'll be from around the 2nd to the 15th of March. Then it's probably Hong Kong for the 19th onwards, till he hops over to Japan to arrive on the 27th! As I'm writing this, there will be at least six gigs in Japan, though the tremendous demand to see David over there suggests that an extra one might yet be squeezed in.

Then, after a brief holiday, DAVID HITS EUROPE!!!

That should be around mid-April.

Oh, and by the way, I've got some fantastic news for all of fan club members, as well as those of you who would like to join the ranks of official Partridge Family fans for the first time. We've completely re-designed the fan club wallet, adding new photos and posters, as well as bringing the fact sheets up to date. The result is the best fan club wallet we've ever produced! I'm mentioning this now especially for those of you with subscriptions which will soon run out, and are thinking about whether or not to rejoin, because this new wallet really is the perfect thing for all Partridge fans.

If you want to renew your membership or to join the fan club for the first time, just send a cheque or postal order for 86p to Susie Miller, 58 Parker Street, London WC2B 5QB. Make sure to enclose a note explaining that you want to join, and print your name and address in block capitals. And please try and be patient. With all the difficulties at the moment, it may take a little longer than usual for your wallet to arrive.
