Hello there!

Well, despite power cuts, strikes and all the problems we've had this Winter, we've managed to produce the mag. And along with it, we've got a few pleasant surprises.

As you know there wasn't much we could do about getting David over here until the Spring, but we did manage to come up with an alternative. Since so many people have been making decisions about what David ought to do next, we thought you should be considered, too. As you'll discover in our first feature, we sent our roving reporter around to find out exactly what David's fans thought David should do.

Those of you who thought that our competition last year, "Portraits Of David", was a good one are also going to be pleased to hear that we're running another one. As you remember, last year we asked you to draw David as you had seen him on his British tour, or perhaps performing on television. Well, this time we're going to make things a bit tougher. The competition is entitled "Images of David", and it will give you all a chance to use your imaginations.

We want you to imagine David in the sort of surroundings where you think he belongs. Perhaps you think that David should be in Hawaii. If you did, then why not enter a drawing or painting of David in a flowered shirt, beneath a palm tree? Or if you think that David should move to Paris, enter a portrait of him in a beret, standing in front of the Eiffel Tower!

Of course, these are just suggestions: each of you probably have your own ideas about where David would be the most comfortable. And be sure to print three things on the back of your entry: the title—"David In Hawaii," or "David In Paris", for example—and your name and address. We won't be able to send any of the entries back, so please don't send anything that is especially important to you. The five entries which we judge best will each receive a prize of £5, and we will be announcing the results in the April issue. The judges decision is final, and we can accept no entries later than March 20th.

All you have to do to enter is to send your portrait to IMAGES OF DAVID, 58 Parker St., London WC2B 5QB. And please don't forget to print your name and address in block capitals on the back of your entry.

That's just about all for this month, except to remind you that the new, bigger MUSIC WORLD & SUPERSTAR is now on sale, featuring part 39 of The David Cassidy Story, as well as lots of features on top Superstars. In this month's issue, there is also a fantastic competition in which you can win a beautiful acoustic guitar. This is just the first big instrumental competition in the new MUSIC WORLD & SUPERSTAR—there'll be lots more, as well as features on David and the other performers who make the world of music the exciting place it is.
