Hi there!

Before I do anything else, I've got two very important announcements to make, and both of them deal with tickets for sale. SUE MALASINSKI of 17 Princes Square, Bayswater, London W.2 has one ticket to the Glasgow concert that she can't use. JOANNA HERRON of 15 Hampstead Gardens, Golders Green, London NW11 7EH has two tickets to the London concert which she would like to sell.

These girls didn't give me any instructions, but if you want to buy the tickets, I think you should send an S.A.E. to them first, so that they can tell you if the tickets are still for sale.

This page is beginning to look like a lot of loose ends that don't tie together, but I think it's so important that we give you as much information as we can to make David's tour as enjoyable as possible—for every one of his fans.

Anyway, I think Pat may have already said something about this, but it's still advice worth repeating. Please remember that the only official souvenirs at these concerts will be those that are on sale within the stadiums themselves. I think these official programmes and souvenirs are the best value for money, and I'd hate to see you spending hard-earned pocket money on something that's inferior when, if you can wait just until you get inside, you'll be able to get the real thing.

Just in case some of you have forgotten, here's a quick rundown on the concert details: May 24th (Friday), Shawfields Stadium, Glasgow, Scotland; doors open at 6.00pm, concert starts at 8.00pm. May 26th (Sunday), White City Stadium, London; doors open at 6.00pm, concert starts at 8.00pm.

That's just about all, except for one final warning. As you've probably read, a number of girls were injured during David's concerts in Australia. The one thing that none of us want is a repetition of that. So PLEASE, PLEASE keep your heads, and try to help each other if you see someone in trouble or in need of assistance. The Red Cross will be there, but if you try to help each other and respect other people's rights, it will make this concert a wonderful present for David.

See you next month. Oh, and before I forget, there's an exciting new contest sponsored by the Friends Of The Children Society, in which you have a chance to fly (with all expenses paid) to Los Angeles to meet David. All you have to do is to answer the questions in a quiz at home with the help of your family. To get the details and entry forms, just send your name and address, along with a loose 3p stamp to the:

MEET DAVID CASSIDY IN CALIFORNIA COMPETITION
72 Westfields Avenue
London SW13 0AU

If you prefer, you can ring 01-878 4366 at any hour of the day or night. It certainly sounds like a good cause, because the money you earn will go to help disabled and deprived children, and the prize is certainly well worth it!

Susie
