Hi there,

No sooner had I stated quite clearly in my fan club newsletter for October that we couldn't publish details of where David is going to be than he decides not to come and it doesn't matter anyway.

But please don't be downhearted because, of course, David will be coming to this country again very shortly. He'll certainly be flying in for the release of his next LP which is due out in the New Year. But the same message still applies. If you do find out where David is staying, please don't pass it on to all your friends because otherwise it makes it impossible for him to stay in that place again. Far better to keep it to yourself and then I am quite certain that David will be only too happy to talk to you if he gets the chance.

David's new releases have gained him a whole lot of new fans. Of course, he's always held the loyalty of thousands of people in this country and overseas, who have stayed with him throughout the ups and downs that any superstar has to go through to stay at the top. But the number of people who have discovered David for the first time during his last visit and through his recent recordings have been quite extraordinary. I have certainly noticed the difference.

It's tremendously encouraging, of course, because I remember the time only a year ago when we didn't really know whether David was ever going to go into a recording studio again. His whole future was a question mark. He could easily have decided to return to a full-time acting career or gone into films, or merely stayed at home and worked on his lifestory - and what fascinating information that will contain when it eventually appears.

If you haven't got a fan club wallet, then you can still send in for one. All you have to do is to enclose a postal order for 85p, together with your name and address (printed very clearly in block capitals, please) to me at the address above and I'll send a wallet off to you as soon as possible.

By the way, please don't forget that it's always most important that you print your name and address very clearly on anything you send to us. I know I keep repeating this, but it's still surprising the number of letters we receive containing money and a request for various items, like back issues and photos, with no name or address to send them to.

I would be grateful, therefore, if the following would contact me with their current addresses: Christine Sakowicz, formerly of Worsley, Manchester, Cheryl Brothwood of Wirral, Cheshire and Lynne Richards of Wilmslow, Cheshire.
