Hi There!

As you no doubt have already read in Fats' Editorial, this is the last issue of the David Cassidy magazine. Naturally I am as sad as she is because it also means that we won't be able to continue running the fan club.

David, of course, will continue going from strength to strength, but in future I am afraid you will have to write to either his record company here or in America if you want details about his future plans.

This means of course that we won't be issuing a new fan club wallet. But, if you would like to have a memento of one of the greatest pop stars we have ever seen, I can still let you have the old wallet at a specially reduced price of 50p. All you have to do is to send a cheque or postal order for 50p made payable to David Cassidy Magazine, cross with two lines from top to bottom and address it to: Susie Miller (W), David Cassidy Fan Club, 58 Parker Street, London WC2B 5QB.

Running the fan club and being associated with someone like David is something I shall never forget. I know that I haven't always found the time to do everything I should, and I apologise if I have ever disappointed anyone by not replying to their letters, but if you could have seen the pile of mail that came in every day I am sure you would have realised that I never could have found the time to satisfy every single person.

Can I just remind you once again about something that I know I have mentioned many times before, but sadly I won't have the chance to ever say again — if you want to order a wallet or any of the special photos that Pat has mentioned in her Editorial, please don't forget to print your name and address very clearly at the top of your letter. That's one of the things that has always given me a lot of trouble. You'd be surprised at the number of fans who, over the past four years, have sent in money to join the fan club, or to buy some of the postcards or posters that we have been selling, and haven't given us the slightest clue as to where we should send it.

Thanks for all your letters, telegrams and cards which have made my life so much happier, and I hope that I have the chance to meet some of you in the future, perhaps at a David Cassidy concert!

Susie
