Hi!

I think we should all say a huge 'Thank you' to Bell records this month, 'cos they've certainly been treating us well. First of all they've given us the fantastic new Partridge Family 'Christmas Card' album, which I bet lots of you have put top on your list of Christmas presents you hope to get — if you can wait that long!

But the really big news this month is that at last we know the dates of David Cassidy's first ever concerts in this country!!! The venue is the Empire Pool, Wembley, North London and the dates are Friday March 16th and Saturday March 17th, 1973.

If you want to go to either of these concerts then it is most important that you get your order in right away. The prices of tickets are £2.00, £1.50, £1.00 and 50p and all orders for tickets should be sent, together with a cheque or postal order for the appropriate sum and accompanied by a stamped, addressed envelope to: The Ticket Office, Empire Pool, Wembley, Middlesex.

Please note that the ticket office can only handle orders, they cannot deal with enquiries. Most important of all: The box office will not be handling any ticket sales until the 20th November, but there is no harm in getting your order off straight away. We cannot help you to get tickets for the concerts so please do not contact us. The Empire Pool, Wembley are the only people who will be able to supply you with what you want — a seat to see David on stage next March!!!

One really great thing that's been happening during the last month is that the national press have been taking an interest in what WE think about having David and the Partridge Family back on London Weekend Television. I made sure that they all knew how many thousands of people all over Britain outside the London area were anxiously waiting for their local commercial station to switch on to Partridge Power. So, if we keep our fingers crossed, who knows!!!

Lots of you have been asking me when David's new solo album will be released. Well, all we know at the moment is that it is called 'Rock Me Baby', the new single being the title track, and it will be out in the New Year. That's enough to chase away any post-Christmas blues! Also, in February, there'll be a brand new Partridge Family album out, called 'The Partridge Family At Home'.

Hope you'll enjoy reading what David's closest friend, Sam Hymen has to say in this month's mag. It's easy to see why they have remained friends for so long, 'cos they have so much in common and share the same kind of warm, sincere friendliness and spontaneous sense of humour. In fact Sam's just SUPER!

The December issue of David's own magazine will be published on December 15th. It's always out on the 15th of every month, of course, but I thought I'd just remind you again.
