

YOUR LETTERS

Calling Yuko

Dear Pat,

Please could you print my plea on your Letters page? You see, when David was on the 'Diddy David Hamilton Show' my friend Kath and I were at school. Although we took our trannies, when break finally came, David had gone!

So I'd really like to get in touch with Yuko Kano, whose letter was printed in the October mag.

By the way, when the 'Scene and Heard' interview with David took place, I was at my sister's wedding (I'll never forgive her for choosing September!)

VALERIE WATSON,

NORTH SHIELDS.

What a tale of woe! I can understand just how frustrated you must have felt. If you read this, Yuko, please drop us a line and we'll pass it on to Valerie.

ED.

A Short Story

Dear Ed,

How I envy all my friends who tower above me. They can easily get a place in a queue, while I, a mere five foot tall, have to put up with being pushed, poked and having my tights laddered.

But now I am much happier because of the comforting realisation that David is only 8 inches taller than me!

ALI STRIDE,
BALCOMBE, SUSSEX.

Kissing Cousin

Dear Ed,

Last week my 1 year old cousin Nichola was spending a holiday in Burnley with her mummy. On one of her visits to our house, Nichola picked up one of my David Cassidy Magazines. As she turned the pages, she kissed all the pictures of David. I'm sure she must be one of David's youngest fans!

ALISON MACDONALD,
BURNLEY, LANCs.

Well, we've had a kitten fan, now a baby — anyone else got any tales of unusual David fans?

ED.

Thank You

Dear Ed,

Following publication in one of the music magazines of a letter about David Cassidy, I received several letters from members of the David Cassidy Fan Club. As I haven't had time to reply to them all, and some didn't include their address, I would like to thank everyone who took time out to write personally.

COLIN EDWARDS,
HOTEL SEALAN, RAMSGATE, KENT.

David Afloat?

Dear Pat,

As you know, David asked us to write in and tell you what we think of the idea of him staying on a boat during his next visit. Well, I think it is a really great idea. David's fans have a much better chance of seeing him than if he stayed in a hotel and it must also be better for David himself (which is the main thing).

I do think, though, that the boat itself should have been put in a nicer setting than Tower Pier, one with a better view, such as Hampton Court or Kew Gardens. Don't you think so? Anyway, I still think it is an excellent idea. So long as David is happy, that is all I, and, I'm sure, everyone else, cares about.

I agree, Karen, that the view is very important, but even more important is the position of the boat, which must be as close to the centre of the city as possible, in order to make it easier for David to fulfil his official engagements. Let's wait and see what Ruth manages to arrange!

ED.

S.O.S.!

The following people are just some of those who have sent their money to join David's fan club and have missed out their name and/or address:

Louise Jenkins, PO No. 348534; Younie, PO No. 395717, from Glasgow; PO No. 241776 from Morayshire; Claire Griffiths from Co. Durham, PO No. 905146; Eila Rantasalo from Helsinki; PO No. 265371 from Hastings; PO No. 264213 from Darlington; PO No. 259767 from Edinburgh. Please could these people write in as soon as possible. I you haven't had your fan club wallet or buck issues yet, please allow at least a month for them to arrive, because we are a bit snowed under at the moment!

