

It was touch and go for a while whether or not Peggy Lipton and Clarence Williams would be back on "Mod Squad" this fall, but I'm happy to say that things worked out all right. They held out for more money per episode shot, and they won. Now all three stars (which includes Michael Cole who wasn't in on the disagreement) are up from $1,500 to $5,000 for each show. This isn't necessarily a weekly salary, since some shows take more time to do, but it's a nice raise in pay whatever way you look at it!

A coincidence that came up during

BACK TO WORK are Clarence and Peggy after holding out for more money per "Mod Squad" episode.

the feud was that "Mod Squad" was considering replacing Peggy with Shelley Fabares, formerly of the long-gone "Donna Reed Show." At this printing, Peggy is Lou Adler's steady girl, although Lou is still legally married to Shelley! (Confusing, isn't it?)

Making more $$$ hasn't swayed Michael Cole's decision to give up living in his own home for a while. He's back to doing what he did when he was an unemployed actor—living with friends. The unsettled life seems to appeal to Michael, who certainly believes in doing his own thing!

Things are happening for you in the movies, too! Besides the "Pufnstuf" and "Dark Shadows" flicks that were released this summer, add these "NORWOOD" teams Glen Campbell up with Kim Darby again, but this one is more of a true-love story!

for future must-sees: Glen Campbell and Kim Darby teamed up again in "Norwood," which early-viewers say shows Glen's acting abilities off much better than his first film, "True Grit."

Mark Lester, a veteran of 15 movies, recently completed "Eye Witness," a thriller about a boy who sees a murder. "It's full of crooks and everything," he says, "and I liked making this picture the best of any so far!" (For more notes from Mark plus a beautiful color portrait, see page 42.)

The rating on Len Whiting's new movie, "Say Hello to Yesterday," hasn't been set at this writing, but I hope you Len fans will be able to see it. Filmed in London, the story is about a love affair between a very persistent 19-year-old (Len) and an older woman (Jean Simmons). Len is very much into the more adult films he's wanted to do now, and I'm sure he's great in this—hope his fans will be able to catch it!

In case the occasional critic of the American girl gets you down, remember this: Len Whiting is still very much hung-up over that New York model he's been seeing so much over the past months, and Mark Lester confesses, "I don't go steady, of course, but my special girlfriend is an American who lives in London with her family. Her name is Wendy Dayton and she's lots of fun!" So there!

Despite the success of Paul McCartney's solo album, most Beatle lovers are upset about his split from the group. A note of some comfort comes from George Harrison, asked recently what his views are on the subject. "Right now everybody is doing their own individual albums," he said, "so let it be for a while. As far as I'm concerned, there's every prospect of our getting back together again, and I'm ready!" I hope so, don't you?

George has just moved into a $336,000 35-acre estate that was a convent at one time, and he plans to convert the grand ballroom into his own recording studio. The house even has secret passageways that connect to underground rivers!

John and Yoko have, for the moment at least, retired from the spotlight. They want Yoko to take it easy until their expected little Lennon, due in October, arrives.

It was a baby girl for Peter Tork and Reine! The happy couple named their offspring Hallie Elizabeth. "Hallie," explained Peter, "is the feminine version of my middle name, Halsten." That means all the Monkees' are the parents of little girls now!

All five Osmond Brothers came in this week and we chatted for a while before taking them to a park nearby for some color photos. They're excited about their smash tour of Japan, where they got rave reviews! The family is looking for a new home in nearby

Brentwood, so we'll be able to see these guys more often than ever. By the way, Donny says the color pic of him on FaVE's back cover this month is one of his all-time favorite photos!

Don't miss Bobby Sherman's appearance on Johnny Cash's first show this season—put a big red circle around July 8th on your calendar. He looked sooooo handsome when I saw him, and he had this comment to make about all the mail you've been sending him:

"I think I'm getting more letters than ever since "Brides" has been cancelled! I am truly, truly grateful for the support the fans have been giving me!" Bobby was floored when we presented one fan's gift: a six-foot painting of him! Keep your fingers crossed that there'll be a new series coming up for him soon!

Out of space again! Have a groovy summer!
