

JEREMY GELBWAKS

Quiet and sincere and very curious —asks people he meets all kinds of questions. Likes to have his picture taken. Reads Popular Mechanics and Mad Magazine. Speaks clearly and to the point. Takes direction well when on the set. Likes playing drums in real life, too. A safer driver than Danny on the bike.

DAVID CASSIDY

A physical person; a "toucher." Has a lot of energy, as if he's in a hurry to get to his next project. Talks in spurts. Favorite expression is "really"—"really hot" or "really exciting" or "really nice." Quietly friendly; looks directly at you when speaking to you. Relatively easy-going. A gesture you'll notice is the way he throws his head back. Laughs readily and easily.

SHIRLEY JONES

Very self-confident about herself and about the show. Seems quiet and still, but has nervous energy she works off by knitting between scenes. Speaks slowly and softly and distinctly. Doesn't "mother" the kids on the show, but treats them as fellow actors, including David.
