

Every week you'll be seeing David Cassidy on TV playing the part of Keith on "The Partridge Family," and soon you're going to know Keith very well. But Keith is only a role David plays, while the real David lies buried beneath. To find out what David's like, you have to meet him away from the TV studio, when he's feeling relaxed and unhurried. The best place of all to get to know David is at his very private, very peaceful pad in Laurel Canyon! An exciting adventure is waiting for you there, because today is the day . . .
