

just been certified as a million seller, and he's the proud owner of a brand new, dark green Porsche.

But most exciting of all, Bobby could very well be starring in his own television series next year! "The first draft of the script is only being written now," he confided, "but I'll be playing a young, hip filmmaker who goes around getting into all kinds of trouble!"

The only shadow on Bobby's happiness these days is the almost too enthusiastic response he's been receiving at his concerts. "Three out of the last four shows I did had to be stopped before I did the last song because of fans rushing the stage," he sighed. "I feel just terrible about it, because I don't want the audience getting less than they came to see! I've wanted to continue to the end, but the police have to get me off when it looks like someone might get hurt!"

Please, please be careful! You wouldn't want anything to happen to Bobby, I know, and he feels the same way about you!

Breakfast was over all too soon for the winners. As Debbie said, "I had a million questions to ask Bobby, but once I started looking into his bright blue eyes, I couldn't think of anything!"

Bobby stayed as long as he could, and each of the girls got a kiss good-bye and a standing invitation to be his guest when he gave a concert in their hometown. Already late for his meeting at MGM, he was about to dash into his Porsche when he noticed a girl walking toward him shyly. Bobby stopped in his tracks, took her outstretched hands in his and smiled at her, asking her name. After they chatted for a few minutes, he gave her a quick hug, and then with a wave, his car roared away. Through her happy tears, the girl said, "Isn't he wonderful?" Yes, he is!

Three exhausted, happy girls left for home the next day, and all of us were sorry to see them go! For more about their adventures in Hollywood, see page 40.

Your chance to be the lucky winner of a trip just like theirs awaits you on page 20, where you'll find FaVE's Super Eye Contest for the last time! Don't delay in sending your entry, 'cause we're looking forward to meeting you!

Rick Ely, who is being extra careful about everything he does on the set of "The Young Rebels" since he's had all those freak accidents, called to say he's just signed a recording contract. I can recall when we were only able to see our faves acting on their TV series or in movies. These days, with terrific talents like Bobby, Rick and of course, David Cassidy, we're lucky enough to hear them on records too! The last I heard, there was a title change in the wind on "Rebels," because the ABC brass thinks the present title might seem encouraging to young militants. So far, though, nothing definite has been decided.

THE WINNERS of FaVE's Fly to Hollywood Contest flipped out when they toured the Seattle set from "Here Come the Brides!" The big smiles L to R belong to Linda Mazgaj, Debbie Dewey and Peggy Dagucon. More pix on pg. 40.

WORKING WITH his stepmother, Shirley Jones is a snap, says David Cassidy. She's always there to help him and the other "Partridges" with their problems!

FaVE is bringing you lots of extra goodies this month, and no one is happier about it than I am! First of all, we've got a full eight more pages so we can get even more pix and info to you every month, along with the full-color pages we added a couple of months ago.

Another big plus: two brand-new exciting columns from the stars of the "Partridge Family" are coming your way starting this issue! David Cassidy agreed to write you a letter every month about anything and everything! See page 22, for where to send your questions! Shirley Jones, who plays David's mom on the show (in real life she's his stepmother!) will also be answering any questions you have about love or beauty Her column appears on page 50!

For our big preview of what's happening on TV starting with the fall season, we've included a TV Preview section for you too! All this and much, much more, so I know you're going to enjoy our bigger and better FaVE!

Let me know how you like it, and enjoy the rest of your summer!
