

This was a pretty exciting month for us here at Tiger Beat, for it was this month that our contest winners flew into Hollywood for their super tour in Movietown! I met them at the airport and I can honestly say I was as excited as they were! It's so much fun to share this exciting city, that I look forward to our contests every year. By the way, if you haven't entered our newest "Fly To Hollywood" contest, just turn to page 42! Keep in mind, none of our winners ever guessed they'd be the ones that would really fly to Hollywood with all expenses paid, but as you can see on page 18, their dreams really did come true!

If you've already looked at our exclusive photos from the London set of "Melody" starring JACK WILD and MARK LESTER, you may have wondered why the story was different from the one I told you about in my column last month—well, here's the reason. When JACK was here filming "Get Together," he told me all about the film, but while he was here, the script rent one and from all reports, you'll be seeing it in your neighborhood theaters in January of next year!

JACK was back in America for the world premiere of "Pufnstuf" which took place in San Antonio, Texas on June 3. Along with co-stars BILLIE "WITCHIEPOO" HAYES, MARTHA RAYE and MAMA CASS, JACK participated in a city-wide parade to celebrate the films opening.

The newest addition to DAVID CASSIDY'S house in Laurel Canyon is a "spool table." He and his roommate SAM are decorating their house piece by piece and when they found an empty spool, once used to hold telephone cables, they couldn't have been more delighted. They carted it home, mounted it on a big tree stump, touched it up with a little paint and presto—their first coffee table!

When I received word of DAVID JONES' latest venture called The Street, I couldn't have been more excited for DAVID. His plan was to have a "street," actually the whole floor under the famous "in" club The Factory, where his friends could sell their hand-made goods. Then the invitation came for the opening and I thought, "he's really done it!" Along with our photographer KENNY LIEU, I went to
