

That's when I realized for the first time that there wasn't going to be any stopping Dave Cassidy!

A BROADWAY SHOW

It wasn't long after that that he moved back to New York City to live with his dad and Shirley Jones. He got a part in a Broadway play which closed right after it opened, but Dave was on his way!

When he returned to California, Dave changed schools and gradually, as these things happen, we sort of went our own ways. I still saw him, but not as often. He became very involved in working on TV, finishing up school and getting as much professional experience as he could.

It was as if Dave had suddenly grown up all at once! He was getting his chance to do what he'd always dreamed of, and I can honestly say that I don't know one person who thinks Dave doesn't deserve all of his success. There's one way he never changed—Dave is still Dave to his friends, and there isn't anyone I know who has a bad thing to say about him!

That was only a few years ago, and you know what's happened to Dave since then. It couldn't have happened to a nicer guy!
