

ful, reverent, thrifty, brave and clean. Having once been a Boy Scout, he knows the Scout motto."

YOU: "Seriously."

DAVID: "Seriously, I think I'm an objective person. Which basically means fair and honest in everything I do, with everyone I meet."

YOU: "What changes have you seen in yourself since the show started?"

DAVID: "I've had to adjust to being in front of people. It's not an easy adjustment. And I've had to adjust to having almost no privacy anymore, which is the most difficult adjustment of all."

YOU: "What does 'The Partridge Family' mean to you?"

DAVID: "It's another step, another opportunity. I love to act, but I can't see doing it for the rest of my life. It's not what I see myself doing, looking into the future. Ten years from now, I'd like to see myself on a farm in the country. But, if you were to meet me in ten years, I'd probably be into something altogether different. I'm very changeable, which is very exciting, but also kind of confusing."

YOU: "What turns you on?"

DAVID: "Groovy looking girls—and sleeping. Also, my dogs, ice cream, water skiing and my guitar."

YOU: "Speaking of your guitar, are you serious about becoming an accomplished guitarist?"

DAVID: "You bet! I practice all I can. Even on the busiest of days, I try to get at least two hours of practice in."

YOU: "What turns you off?"

DAVID: "Extremists, phonies and total opportunists. The depressing thing is that I'm constantly surrounded by them."

You and David talked about many more things: Susan Dey, Shirley Jones, Vietnam, Bobby Sherman, and much more! Part Two of your face-to-face interview with David will appear in next month's FLIP, on sale March 11th!
