

Partridge Family!

CONVINCED HE'S the family comedian, Danny gets a writer, (Morey Amsterdam), to provide jokes for him. The jokes turn out to be just as bad as Danny's delivery of them on stage! The songs were "Somebody Wants To Love You," and "All of the Things." It was on television the first time on November 20, 1970. Danny says he really did enjoy doing this segment!

"LOVE AT FIRST SLIGHT" was the title of this one. Keith, being in show business was being chased by every girl in town. Almost. The girl he's flipped for won't give him the time of day. "Somebody wants to Love You" is the song again, and lucky girl to star in this one with David was Lane Bradbury!

IN "DANNY and the Mob," 10 year old Danny Partridge is seen with a sexy Las Vegas cigarette girl. Her boy friend finds out and sends his "boys" after Danny. Pat Harrington and Barbara Rhoades guested. The song was "That'll be the Day," and for Danny Partridge it almost was! This one was shown Nov. 6, 1970. Wow!

ON NOVEMBER 13, 1970, the Partridges found a fool-proof way to become instant rejects! How? By letting a skunk climb aboard their bus — accidentally, of course. The song was called "A Brand New Me."

AS AN ASPIRING songwriter Danny again proves he's very good — at lifting other people's material! And he does it while he sleeps. Who does he lift from? Keith of course! It was Dec. 4, the song, "To Be Lovers."
