

DAVID!

HOW DIFFERENT?

MEET HIM, and watch out for your heart, because you're about to lose it! One look into those long-lashed hazel eyes and zap! you're under his spell! Right now there's a question in the depths of his eyes as he gazes deeply into yours. His unspoken words are saying, "I'd like to know you, but will you like me for myself?" Take time — it won't be long until his shyness disappears!

SPEND TIME with him and find how truly special he really is. A person of many moods, he feels both happiness and sadness very deeply. He's sensitive and easily hurt, and this quality makes you want to reassure him that all you want is to be his friend. If he will trust you, watch another quality appear — a darling little boy full of tricks and fun. How could anyone resist him?

Ask four different people who know him what he's like, and you're sure to get four different stories. That's because he's so many people wrapped up in one, super-talented guy. Try to understand him and you will love each and every part of his personality.

GET TO KNOW what he loves most: animals, children, his family, nature and things that grow — the list is endless. It includes his dog Sam, too, and often he says Sam is like a person to him.

DAVID is a summer day with a sudden thunderstorm. He's like that sad song you learned by heart because singing it somehow made you happy. Those who love him hope he never changes.
