

Tiger Beat Q & A

Q. I read some time ago that Bobby Sherman and David Cassidy really couldn't give opinions on one another because they hadn't met. But now that they did the show together, please tell me what they thought of each other!

A. Bobby and David got along beautifully and enjoyed the opportunity of working together. There were no complaints!

Bobby David

Q. I have a groovy record by Rare Earth, but it's got the name on there twice and I don't know if it's the name of the group or the record company. Do you know?

A. The answer is, it's both! Rare Earth is the name of a popular singing group, and it is also the name of the rock and roll division of Motown Records.

Q. We hear so much about the Osmonds living in Arleta, California, but everytime I look at a California map, I can't find any such place! Where is Arleta, anyway?

A. Arleta is located in the Northwestern section of the San Fernando Valley, which makes up a large part of Southern California.

Merrill Rick

Q. Is Rick Ely related to Ron Ely, the actor who starred in "Tarzan?"

A. No, they are not related.

Q. I've heard that the Osmond Brothers have made a TV commercial. Is that true?

A. Yes it is. The group did a commercial for a Japanese soft drink called Calpis, and the commercial is presently running in the Orient.

Q. I am a Bobby Sherman fan and my girlfriend told me he has no bottom teeth! I've searched all over for pictures showing his bottom teeth, and I can't find any! Can you tell me if she's right?

A. Good grief! We've had some wild letters come into our Q & A column before, but this one tops them all! You can rest assured that Bobby has all of his teeth —on the top and bottom!

Q. I read about David mentioning Sam & Sheesh from time-to-time, but I don't know who they are. Can you help?

A. Yes ma'am! Sam and Sheesh are David's two dogs.

Q. My friend and I are having an argument about the pronunciation of Danny Bonaduce's last name. Is it Bon-a-duce or Bon-a-do-chee?

A. Your second choice is correct. It's Bon-a-do-chee.

Danny Frank

Q. I'd like to know if Frank Webb smokes?

A. No, Frank does not smoke.

Q. A junky New York magazine says that David Cassidy lives in New York, but I always thought he lives in California. Which is correct?

A. You're correct. David makes his home right here in sunny California in the Hollywood Hills.

Q. Where was Jonathan Frid born?

A. He was born in Hamilton, Ontario, Canada.

Q. Did Bobby Sherman get to choose the color label he wanted for his records? I wondered since it's blue because I know that's his favorite color.

A. That's a good observation, but it's purely coincidental that it worked out that way. Bobby did not choose the blue label for Metromedia Records.

Q. Would you please answer this question for me? Did David Henesy attend John Adams Middle School in Alexandria, Virginia?

A. Yes, for awhile David was a student there.

Q. Can you please tell me if Susan Dey is 15 and when her birthday is?

A. Susan plays the part of a 15 year old on "The Partridge Family" but in real life her age is 18. She celebrates her birthday Dec. 10.

Susan Jack

Q. I saw the new movie "Flight of the Doves" and it renewed my interest in lovable Jack Wild! Can you tell me where he's now living?

A. Jack's family is making their home in Hounslow, Middlesex, England which is a suburb about 10 miles outside of London.

Q. I was walking through a record store the other day and came across a record called "Bobby's Girl." Sure enough I bought it, but it was sung by Marcie Blane instead of Patti Carnel. What happened?

A. Believe it or not, you've purchased yourself a collector's item! You see, Marcie Blane had a hit with this record nine years ago—in 1962! Patti Carnel did the updated version last year, but not all the stores stocked it. So you really got yourself an original!

Q. I've been a fan of the "Nanny and the Professor" group for a long time, and it really looks like David Doremus has grown since he began the series. Do you know how tall he is?

A. Yes, we do. David is 5'4" (he has grown!) and weighs 110 lbs.

David Karen

Q. Does Karen Valentine have pierced ears?

A. No, Karen's ears are not pierced.
